

LIBER 2021 ONLINE

Knowledge Café at the LIBER Annual Conference 2021

We are pleased to announce that on Wednesday the 23rd of June, during the LIBER 2021 Annual Conference (Online), we will host a 'Knowledge Café' where we come together virtually to discuss a specific topic. This year we would like to ask for your input on the new strategy that LIBER will develop for the 2023-2027 period.

With LIBER's current Strategy (2017-2022) coming to a close, we would like to invite our members to join us in our effort to shortly think back and assess LIBER's efforts since 2017 (being at the forefront of representing research libraries in Europe and advocating for the future of Open Science).

As we are currently developing the foundation for the next LIBER Strategy, we invite all LIBER participants to join us during this Knowledge Café and help shape the vision for this new Strategy. Our participants will get the opportunity to join in and share their ideas and visions in a highly interactive session. The feedback and input that we will receive will be used to shape the next Strategy and strategic directions.

According to LIBER President, Jeannette Frey, "Our network is the biggest source of valuable information when it comes to strategising. The needs and wishes of our network must be addressed as part of this crucial procedure to create a new LIBER strategy. And of course, the new strategy is so much more than simply a document. It must be a living and breathing document that we can all utilise and refer to. As such, we would gladly appreciate your input in this interactive session/Knowledge Café on the topic."

In order to attend the Knowledge Café make sure you register for the conference here. The Knowledge Café will be exclusively attended by LIBER Participants so make sure to register and contribute your valuable insights.
