In a nutshell, PALOMERA seeks to understand why so few open access funder policies include books, and to provide actionable recommendations to change this.

Key facts
- 16 members and partners from across Europe
- Runs from January 2023 to December 2024

Members
- OPERAS (Coordinator) – Belgium
- OAPEN Open Access Publishing in European Networks – Netherlands
- Hanken School of Economics – Finland
- IBL PAN – Poland
- LIBER – Netherlands
- University of Coimbra – Portugal
- Digital Research Infrastructure For the Arts and Humanities – France
- European Science Foundation – France
- ZRC Sazu – Slovenia
- SPARC Europe – Netherlands
- Bielefeld University – Germany
- Georg-August-Universität Göttingen – Germany
- Open Access Scholarly Publishing Association – Netherlands
- Université d’Aix-Marseille – France

Partners
- Jisc – United Kingdom
- Open Book Publishers Community Interest Company – United Kingdom

Project expected results
- A Knowledge Base comprising relevant information on OA book publishing landscape and policies
- A service helping research funding organisations align their policy development (the Funder Forum)
- A set of actionable and evidence-based recommendations to the adoption of OA book policies and strategies
- Two policy briefs summarising key findings and results in plain text targeted at the most senior level of research funding and research performing organisations
- A report identifying the bottlenecks that prevent the adoption of OA book policies and strategies
- Scientific publications (individual and joint publications relating to the project)
- Research data (from policy-analysis, surveys, interviews, workshops and similar)

Funded by HORIZON Europe as part of the call:
Reforming and Enhancing the European R&I System (https://cordis.europa.eu/project/id/101094270)