The LIBER Architecture Group

has pleasure to announce its next seminar:

May 6 to May 9, 2014, Helsinki

Designing the Future: From Concepts to Library Buildings

Helsinki, Kaisa House – the spectacular new library of the University of Helsinki in the city centre: the host of our next seminar

Discover the fascinating library interior of a former shopping mall – full of light, unexpected vistas and stimulating ideas about learning today .
Discover the final part of a concept to unify more than a hundred small libraries into five big inter-faculty libraries!

Discover how students make use of a multitude of different seating opportunities, see how a variety of learning spaces cater for the various needs of today's library users – and hear about planning them!

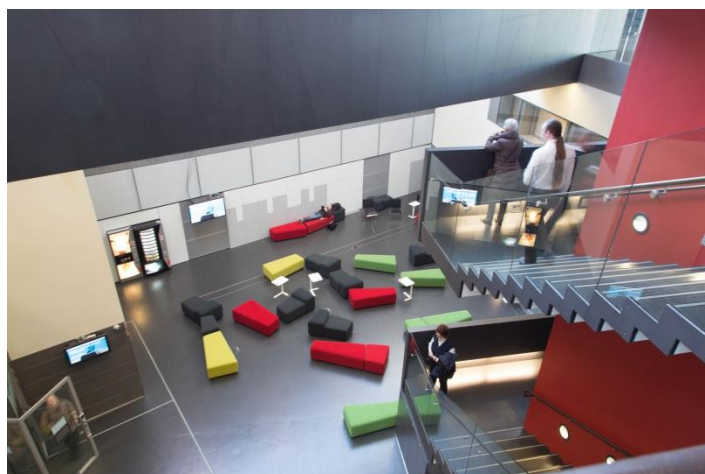

Visit interesting libraries, gather information ...

about projects of refurbishing,

and new buildings,

and exchange views and share experiences with colleagues from all over Europe!
